

London ReFocus, as part of the Sightlines-Initiative Network, invites early educators, artists and others in developing a creative and reflective approach to early years' education and inspired in their practice by the pre-schools of Reggio Emilia, Italy.

London ReFocus : Open Meeting

Thursday, 24th November 2016

at

4.30 pm start 6pm end

Observing and hearing children's theories

'Learning to Learn in Nature' © Sightlines Initiative

Discussing videos of children exploring provides wonderful opportunities for staff development. The reflection and interpretation creates insight into children's thinking, and is the essential basis for educators' mindful construction of learning environments. Continuing our focus on observation and documentation, London ReFocus will look together at strategies when viewing exciting footage of children exploring their theories.

This is a wonderful chance to share and explore in a supportive group situation...

- What do each of us see?
- What interpretation do we give to children's ideas?

Venue: Nell Gwynn Nursery School (by kind permission of Pippa Baker, Headteacher)
Meeting House Lane, London SE15 2 TT

Members of Sightlines-Initiative free, non-members £5

How to book: please register through Sightlines-Initiative website www.sightlines-initiative.com (click educators and forthcoming events)