First encounters		Going public; notifying of related introductory events; discussing and clarifying re 'systems development' ("We
i not encoance.		are not educating individuals, we are educating organisations.")
Inductions
		'Getting started' day with key staff plus mgmt leads. Possible related 'Learning in Nature' day. Ideally, key participation is with at least two staff. If not possible, they must have a named buddy who also wants to engage,
Course: Phase 1		* creating a culture of learning: exercising curiosity, reflection, challenge, support, dialogue, listening etc. key participation is with at least two staff. If not possible, they must have a named buddy. The approach is action-research. Between each day, staff develop their work. It is not a passive course. As the course progresses, we will use material and situations generated by participants.
Course: Phase 2		Key days—work in settings—mentoring visits
		* learning groups: children/adults, dialogic practice, pedagogical documentation, dialogues w. parents From instruction to construction—Action-research foci (and facing the challenges); making learning visible; learning to advocate, become authoritative
Optional formative goodies		Key days—work in settings—mentoring visits
		Recommended extras
Presentations (at WoL exhibit seminars?)		Presentations
November '17		An important feature, though we shouldn't intimidate people with this. The characteristic of presentation, of incontro, is intrinsic throughout the course, and we'll be expecting people to present locally e.g with their parents.
		In 2017 we may have a major exhibit, and present some this group could feature. If not, there are other opportunities.
